

Mice

by Donovan, Sydney, & Aiden

Appearance

Mice have small pink noses and whiskers. They also have black eyes and round ears. They weigh 28 grams and they're ten centimeters tall.

Habitat and Diet

Mice live in barns, homes, buildings, meadows and gardens.

Adaptations

Snakes eat mice. Owls eat mice and birds eat mice. People are a harm to mice. Some people try to poison mice. Mice run in zigzags this makes them hard to catch.

Life Cycle

When mice are first born they have no hair and cannot leave the nest. They have to drink from their mother's milk.

Interesting Facts

There are 300 kinds of mice. Mice are tiny mammals. When mice are first born they are called kittens. Mice live in almost everywhere except cold places.

Bibliography

Holmes, Kevin. Mice. Bridgestone Books. 1998.

Animal Photos.

<http://animalphotos.info/a/2008/05/16/>. 2008.