

Raccoons by Chayse

Appearance

Raccoons have black, red and blonde fur. Raccoons have long and fluffy tails. They also have rings of black in their fur.

Habitat and Diet

You can find raccoons in America, Mexico and Canada. Where raccoons live is called their range.

Adaptations

Raccoons go in their den to keep warm in the winter. Raccoons do not hibernate in the winter.

Facts

The raccoons' cousins can be found in the southwestern U.S.A. Raccoons' cousins are nocturnal like the raccoons.

Interesting Facts

Raccoons sometimes eat out of garbage cans. Raccoons do not hibernate in the winter, but they go in their den. Raccoons can run up to 15 miles an hour. Raccoons hunt in the water. Did you know that the panda is part of the raccoon family? Raccoons like to live near water. Raccoons use the r tail as a blanket.

Bibliography

Stone, Lynn. Raccoons. Rourke Corporation. 1991.

Advanced Wildlife Control.

<http://www.advancedwildlifecontrolllc.com/raccoons.html>. 2008.