

Snapping Turtle

By: Josh M

□

Adaptations

They can stay under water for hours and camouflage.

Appearance

Snapping turtles have knobby shells, spiked necks, and long tails. They can also be 4 ft long.

Habitat and Diet

Snapping turtles eat almost any kind of fish. They live in lakes and river bottoms.

Life Cycle

They lay up to 50 eggs.

Bibliography

Burnie, David. Animal Encyclopedia. King fisher. 2000.

Snappingturtle.

<http://images.google.com/imgres?imgurl=http://animals.nationalgeographic.com/staticfiles/NGS/Shared/StaticFiles/animals/images/800/alligator>. 2008.